educari

the learning organisation

Dear Colleague,

I am pleased to have this opportunity to inform you about educari's range of educational resources. I hope that you will find these resources useful in your work. educari strives to produce material that is relevant for pupils' and students' learning. Our resources are educationally based and produced to high standards.

We call ourselves the learning organisation because learning is at the core of all we do. Teachers and other educators make learning happen, but their job is easier if they have access to good ideas, well-structured materials, and technically competent technology. It helps if resources look good and are well designed. At educari, we see our role as providing these quality materials.

We start from a different place to most publishers. We are not just a publishing company. Our interests are in teaching and learning and in particular, the potential opportunities for learning offered by new technologies. So we don't just publish resources, we build websites (many aimed at young people), we undertake training, consultancy, research and evaluation in the UK and abroad. Thus, we keep up-to-date with educational developments, and translate our knowledge into resources.

Thank you for your interest in our work, and please contact me or my colleagues if you have anything that you would like to discuss with us.

Richard Ives
 Managing Director.
